WHEATLESS BISCUITS.

Parched cornmeal is the feature of these excellent wheatless biscuits. First, the cornmeal—one-half a cup—is put in a shallow pan placed in the oven and stirred frequently until it is a delicate brown. The other ingredients are a teaspoon of salt, a cup of peanut butter and one and a half cups of water. Mix the peanut butter, water and salt and heat. While this mixture is hot stir in the meal which should also be hot. Beat thoroughly. The dough should be of such consistency that it can be dropped from a spoon. Bake in small cakes in an ungreased pan. This makes 16 biscuits, each of which contains one-sixth of an ounce of protein.

The work of the Hayti ladies has been very highly praised by the inspectors at Caruthersville, where it has been sent. We are still urging visitors to come and help with the work. Bring scissors and thimbles. Caps and aprons furnished at the work room.

A knitting unit is to be organized within the next few days and those who are willing to work in this will please notify Mrs. J. L. Dorris or Mrs. B. L. Guffy. The yarn and needles are here. Each person is required to purchase her own needles and the yarn will be given out to be made up. This work is to be done at home and for this reason will appeal to many who cannot go to the work room regularly.

Dr. J. W. Johnson Resigned.

Dr. J. W. Johnson and family have returned from Camp Pike, Ark., having come home Saturday.

With the entry of the United States into the European war, Dr. Johnson felt the patriotic impulse and made application for training in the Medical Officers' Reserve Corps, and in the final examinations passed with a good grade, drawing a First Lieutenant's commission. He was at first stationed at Camp Funston, Kans., and later transferred to Camp Pike, Ark., and at both places helped in the examination of the drafted men who composed the National Army. For several months past his wife and children have spent their time near the camp, but due to the increasing poor health of his wife, the Doctor decided he had better resign his position in the army and return home, so that he would be afforded more time to help recuperate her health.

Many people in this city will be glad to learn that he will again assume an active practice and that he is at their service.

Installs New Fixtures.

The Lee Spencer Store has recently installed a Sherer-Gillette counter. This counter is very convenient. The front is glass, the interior being divided into commodious bins. This counter is constructed in a style different from any now in use in this city, and, besides being pleasing to the eye, is very convenient and sanitary, doing away with the boxes and barrels usually necessary with the old style counters. This only shows the progressive spirit on the part of this store management.

Sul Thompson, a progressive business man of Portageville was here a few hours Monday, shaking hands with friends.

Gave Us a Visit.

Editor L. M. Ross of the Blytheville (Ark.) Courier and Marshall Field, the expert operator-machinist, came up Sunday on the noon train and paid the Herald editor and office a most enjoyable and appreciated visit. They are truly fine fellows and are of the most jovial kind. We are glad to be host to these gentlemen and a standing invitation is extended them to come any time they like.

The government report shows 13,928 bales of cotton ginned in Pemiscot county up to January 16, 1918. There were 14,625 bales ginned up to the same date in 1917.

New Auto Law in Effect.

The new automobile law which went into effect January 1, shows the state registration fees to be doubled. There are seven classes, ranging from less than 12 horse power to above 72. Starting with Fords and similar low-powered cars the new tax will be $6 and going up to $24 per car.

Other provisions of the law are that the owner must have license plates on both ends of machine and when he goes into a garage must register his name, license number and the time the car is placed in the garage. Every garage must also be registered in the office of the secretary of state.

Only the owner of a car can drive without a driver's license, and nobody under 18 can drive with or without a license. This does not permit members of the owner's family to drive the car if they are under 18.

DELICIOUS CORN MUFFINS.

Here's an old fashioned recipe for corn muffins that has recently been revived and used with unusual success in several of the larger New York hotels: To make three and a half dozen muffins take one quart milk, six ounces butter substitute, twelve ounces of light syrup or honey, four eggs, pinch of salt, two ounces baking powder, one and a half pounds cornmeal and one and a half pounds rye flour. The butter and syrup should be thoroughly mixed; then add the eggs gradually. Pour in the milk and add the rye flour mixed with cornmeal and baking powder.

SCHOOL NOTES.

By W. H. JOHNSON, Superintendent.

Willard Ray of Camp Funston remembered us with some very pleasant visits while at home on his furlough. Willard is a helper in the Medical Corps, and stands in line for something good in the way of promotion. He is a deserving young man and we feel certain that Uncle Sam will see this, and advance him as he learns more of army life.

Miss Wirsching, who has been sick since last Friday, is notable to teach this week. Mrs. Mona Helm is teaching in Miss Wirsching's room.

Hon. Louis Houck of Cape Girardeau is giving a set of his "History of Missouri" three volumes and a set of his "Spanish Regime in Missouri," two volumes to every first class high school in this State. These fine volumes comprise the best state history of which any state in the Union can boast. This work cost Mr. Houck a very large sum of money, besides years of hard work, and we feel that he has rendered a distinctive service to the schools of the State in donating to them these rare and valuable books. We have made the necessary application for the above books for our school and hope to receive them soon.

Madge Davidson of Gulfport, Miss., was called home this week. We regret that Madge could not finish her freshman year with us, but we understand she will go on with her high school work in Gulfport.

Beulah Dowdy was called to Essex Saturday on account of the illness of her mother. She will be out of school for at least a week.

Lettie Buck, who has attended school for the past two terms, enrolled last week. Lettie has been teaching the primary room at her home town, Huffman, Ark. We are glad to have her with us again.

The boys are enjoying this sleet very much as they can skate most everywhere. Quite a number of them have skates and some can perform quite well on them.

Through the kindness and thoughtfulness of our baker, Peter Streiff, the editor of this paper and family have had several nice heads of green lettuce, and of a fine variety. Mr. Streiff and family make a great saving in their year's food supply by using every spare nick of ground for the summer garden, and during the winter months by the use of hot beds.

USE SUBSTITUTES FOR WHEAT FLOUR

THE Government is asking the people to use less wheat flour and more barley and rye flour and corn meal. The Government is taking a large part of each mill's product which, of course, makes a general shortage. We have ordered flour and will only receive about half of our regular amount of wheat flour and in order to take care of our flour trade we must ask that each customer as much as possible, use good substitutes. The letter below from the mill supplying our flour explains the matter in more detail. Do your bit; use one-half less wheat flour. BUCKLEY'S STORE

Scott County Milling Company

Capacity, 3,500 Barrels Daily

SIKESTON, MO., Jan. 23, 1918.

John T. Buckley, Hayti, Mo.

Dear Sir: As a result of the Government asking us to divide 30,000 bushels of wheat with other mills and to furnish them with 30% of our output of flour during the month of February we are obliged to prorate our surplus during February.

We were able to obtain some flour from another mill yesterday which we will turn over to the Government, thereby increasing our February supply. If you can possibly get along during the month of February without any flour it would be a great help to the Food Administration and to us if you would do so. At the same time it is our desire to take care of our regular trade and if you feel you must have some flour, please advise how much you need and furnish specifications. If we hear from all of our customers the amount we have available will be prorated on the basis of the business given us heretofore, and we hope every one will have enough to supply the demand.

In this connection there is a shortage of wheat now on account of transportation difficulties and it would be a great advantage to the country if you would carry a stock of rye flour, barley flour and corn meal, all of which you could instruct your salesman to sell in preference to wheat flour if possible. It will be necessary for the consumer to have some wheat flour, but by using barley and rye flour their consumption of wheat flour can be reduced 50%.

Your co-operation is needed and urgently solicited by this concern.

Yours very truly,

SCOTT COUNTY MILLING CO.
